

Ready to Buy a Business Jet? Learn About Private Jet Brokers!

Appendices and Resources

1. National Business Aviation Association (NBAA):

Website: www.nbaa.org Description: NBAA is a leading association for business aviation, offering resources, advocacy, and industry events for both owners and operators of private jets.

2. Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association (AOPA):

Website: www.aopa.org Description: AOPA is a community of general aviation enthusiasts, providing information, training, and support for aircraft owners and pilots.

3. Federal Aviation Administration (FAA):

Website: www.faa.gov Description: The FAA is the regulatory body governing aviation in the United States. Their website offers regulatory information, safety guidelines, and more.

4. JETNET:

Website: www.jetnet.com Description: JETNET provides market intelligence and aviation data, offering insights into aircraft values, market trends, and more.

5. Controller:

Website: www.controller.com Description: Controller is an online marketplace for buying and selling aircraft. It offers a wide selection of listings and resources for aircraft transactions.

6. Aviation International News (AIN):

Website: www.ainonline.com Description: AIN provides news, reviews, and insights on the aviation industry, including information on aircraft models, market trends, and more.

7. Amstat:

Website: www.amstatcorp.com Description: Amstat provides aircraft market and aviation industry intelligence, including data on aircraft fleets and market analysis.

8. Aircraft Bluebook:

Website: www.aircraftbluebook.com Description: Aircraft Bluebook provides pricing and valuation information for aircraft, aiding buyers and sellers in determining fair market values.

9. IntelliJet International:

Website: www.intelijet.com Description: IntelliJet International offers comprehensive private jet brokerage and aviation services, providing expertise and support for aircraft buyers and sellers.